

AUSTRALIANS AGAINST CAPITAL PUNISHMENT & THE JULIAN WAGNER MEMORIAL FUND

World Day Against the Death Penalty 2019 DINNER (including silent auction)

October 4, 2019 6.30pm arrival • 7.00pm start

Bookings: <https://events.humanitix.com.au/against-death-penalty-dinner>.

Enquiries: contact@jwmf.com.au.

Cost: $100 adult, $85 student/conc. Table of 10 $95/pp
RSVP: 27/09/19

Hotel Grand Chancellor Brisbane

23 Leichhardt Street (Cnr Wickham Terrace)
Brisbane QLD 4000

The 17th World Day Against the Death Penalty aims to raise awareness that children, whose parents are sentenced to death or executed, are unseen victims of the death penalty.

Join us for a Panel discussion hosted by Stephen Keim SC on

How Australians can Help Oppose the Death Penalty Worldwide

We are honoured to present as our guest speakers

Chris Hayes MP, Chief Opposition Whip, a member of the Joint Standing Committee on Foreign Affairs, and a Co-Chair of the Australian Parliamentarians Against the Death Penalty. Chris recently returned from the Philippines and Malaysia where he has delivered papers on both human rights violations and the abolition of the death penalty.

Cindy Wockner, a Brisbane based journalist who spent years covering the Bali Nine story and wrote The Pastor and the Painter as the culmination of those experiences.

Sara Kowal is a criminal lawyer and the Vice-President of the Capital Punishment Justice Project (formerly Repeal Australia). Sara also runs the Monash University Anti-Death Penalty Clinic, where law students work with legal and NGO partners bodies across Asia on anti-death penalty advocacy and casework.

This Day is recognised globally as a reminder of the inhumanity of the death penalty throughout the entire process from sentence to execution. We hope you can join us to mark this important human rights event.

Supported by

Capital
Punishment
Justice
Project

